In FSX: Steam Edition, get RAAS - Runway Awareness and Advisory System Professional from fs2crew.org at the default settings. - Watch as the RAAS call receives instructions from the host computer. - For those who want to model airline-specific options, control how RAAS functions and also listen to calls specific to each airline's operations. - Turn off the sound of the 'smart landing' call and the 'auto-open taxiway' call. - Store your current settings so that you don't have to configure RAAS each time you start up the aircraft. Recommended Requirements RAM: 2 GB Viruses No one - except for devs - knows if FSX: Steam Edition will have any viruses. Virus checkers, whilst a very useful addition in other operating systems, are un-needed in Steam. Installation 1. Extract RAAS - Runway Awareness and Advisory System Professional from fs2crew.org to your desktop. 2. Install FSX: Steam Edition. 3. Select 'RAAS Pro-STA' in the main menu. 4. In the sound options, turn off 'RAAS Professional' and 'Smart Landings' as below. 5. To re-configure, in the sound options, click "Sound Options..." and select the option you want to change. 6. Click "Apply Settings" and then "OK". 7. Quit and start FSX: Steam Edition for the changes to take place. Related Changes In FSX: Steam Edition: 1. Updated engine 2. Updated Datalink 3. Updated User Interface 4. Updated Windows (7 and 8) 5. Updated Direct X and OpenGL 6. Updated Loading Times 7. Corrections made to aircraft icon (e.g., planes can now fly. Previously they could not be resized). Note: Applying the new "sound options" slider may not immediately revert back to the default settings. Please report any issues you encounter with the RAAS Professional - Runway Awareness and Advisory System mod. FSX: Steam Edition - RAAS Professional Add-On With Keygen

FAQ-o-matic: Freeware bundle of FSX & Prepar3d friendly FS2004 add-ons. RAAS Professional (Runway Awareness and Advisory System), from FS2Crew, models the aural 'smart landing' and 'smart runway' calls included in the real-world RAAS unit. These calls offer improved situational awareness for pilots in an effort to help reduce the risk of runway incursions and accidents by providing aural alerts during taxi, take-off, final approach and landing/roll-out operations. User options give control over RAAS and allow for complete customization to match specific needs. The software is professional grade, highly configurable, and is ideal for power users who want to model airline-specific options and who want maximum control over how RAAS functions in FSX: Steam Edition. Full Aural Modelled Approaching runway On runway Taxiway take-off warning Insufficient runway Extended holding on runway Approaching short runway Taxiway landing Takeoff flap monitor Landing distance remaining Distance remaining (RTO) Landing flap monitor Excessive approach speed Excessive approach angle Unstable approach Altimeter setting Long landing

Gameplay FSX: Steam Edition - RAAS Professional Add-On: Full Aural RAAS is designed to run on Steam Edition as well as the Prepar3d version of the program. Both the FSX and Prepar3d versions include the same software. The only difference between the two versions is the configurations and can be set accordingly. In FSX the configuration is found in User Interface section in the RAAS folder. Under that is the configuration for the FSX version. In Prepar3d the configuration is located in the Configuration and Settings folder. Under that is the configuration for the Prepar3d version. The configuration in Prepar3d has one less function listed as compared to the FSX version. As this is a beta version the FSX version has functions not included in the Prepar3d version. So the FSX version may have more functions than the beta. In this tutorial we will give the configuration in Prepar3d in hopes that you can then adjust it to suit your needs. Update: We now have the FSX version of the RAAS Professional downloadable from our FSX folder under the Utilities folder. Today we will give a detailed tutorial on how to configure RAAS Professional in Prepar3d. Note: FS2Crew will not be liable for any of the mistakes made in this tutorial.

None of the eight cases involved a crime that was violent or led to the death of a victim. Banks explained these were not cases that implicate the Criminal Justice Act due to procedure and the judge's schedule. In five of the cases, the judge said he would not make a decision. He had to decide whether to allow the Canadian leaders to remain in the country with their passports, and, if so, if they should face a limited time stamp on their passports or a travel ban. A limited time stamp would require them to apply for another passport and start the process over again. The cases have far-reaching implications for the leaders, who might be banned from Canada if their passports contain a U.S. time stamp. Conservative Leader Andrew Scheer accused Trudeau of engaging in "political payback." Trudeau has said the opposition's bid for election campaign funding would be at a disadvantage because of the government's new rules against foreign financing of campaigns.
