It should be a message to the thousands of independent film makers and independents of color looking to make the leap to television, that if you make a program of local significance, there are some people who are interested in seeing it. Whatever your current level of celebrity might be, the producers who made "Appalachia: Our Story" are hungry for more. The program on Saturday morning, with co-producers and stars such as John Fugelsang, Lonell Glover, Bill Duke and Charles "Chip" E., and the indefatigable veteran filmmaker Tom Quinn, was an honest portrayal of the Appalachian people whose forebears had been here when the earliest colonists made their first move on that piece of land that would eventually become the American Southwest. The story is one of love, not just of a land and

What's New In OneNote Math AddIn?

* This is an Add-in for the Microsoft® OneNote® application. * The add-in allows users to type inline TeX formulas and convert them to images. * Since OneNote no longer supports MathML embedded in PDF, the formulas will still be embedded in the document. Thus, we have a workaround to display them in an alternate format. * OneNote Math AddIn includes: * Option to edit formulas or save them to a file * Option to search for formulas * A calculator bar on the ribbon to help you type the equations quickly * Math and Image Export functions to support easy charting, shape recognition, or converting to PDF * Option to convert to Word file * Option to specify the font size Installation notes: * The installation package comes with two files "OneNoteMathAddIn.exe" and "oneNoteMathAddIn.vst. Double click "oneNoteMathAddIn.vst" to launch the addin. * When you install the addin, after the installation is complete, close OneNote and launch it again. * OneNote Math AddIn is an Add-in, the installation will require a restart of OneNote. If the addin successfully installed, you will see the "Math" menu on the OneNote ribbon. * For Windows 8 and Windows 8.1, you do not need to restart the PC after installing the addin.
